Take Brittany

By Jennie Wilson and Jenny Core

Edited by Chris Wakely and Philippe Le Bian

A cross-curricular resource to develop French and intercultural understanding at Key Stages 1 and 2.

Take Brittany is a collection of cross-curricular units to help children in primary schools practise their French and develop their intercultural understanding. Each unit focuses on an aspect of Breton culture and encourages children to reflect on similarities and differences with their own culture. The units include step-by-step teaching notes, a PowerPoint slideshow and a video. At the end of each film children from Ecole Sanquer, a school in Brittany, complete a creative activity which can then be recreated by the English children. There are plenty of opportunities for French language learning. There are eight units:

- Welcome to Brittany
- Open the Door
- An Artist's View of Pont Aven
- A Taste of Brittany
- The Pottery of Quimper
- Standing Stones of Brittany
- Market Day
- A Festival Montage

Brittany Ferries

Brittany Ferries is pleased to be supporting Take Brittany. With the need to learn French in primary schools now becoming clear, there's nothing like visiting the country to bring the language and culture to life. And Brittany Ferries can help schools and parents organise trips to this corner of France.

With regular sailings from Plymouth and Portsmouth direct to Brittany, as well as from Poole to Western Normandy, you can choose a sailing that suits your itinerary and you'll arrive close to where you want to be. What's more, our crews are French (in fact many are Breton), so you'll feel you are in France as soon as you step aboard.
